From the makers of real QUALITY Furniture of all kinds, from the great carpet makers and importers, the goods have come and are now on display in our store. No matter what size or price the home may be, no matter how much or how little you want to pay, no matter whether you want to add a few odd pieces to your already furnished home, or to furnish a home complete, you will find it to your advantage to trade here. Because we buy in enormous quantities direct from the makers and the importers and sell rapidly, we can sell to you at a very low price.

You Can Choose the Very Bed You Want---Brass or Iron

Metal beds are always desirable; every home needs to have one or more, for metal beds are sanitary, comfortable, and add to the general beauty of the appearance of the room.

Our buyer made a specialty of selecting the best beds this season and his efforts were rewarded with success as our line now on display will show.

Prices are very modest ones.

You Will be Greatly Pleased When You See Our New Parlor Suits

Representing, as they do, the best styles in both upholstered and loose seat suits. The accepted materials are all here, and the designs are all that you will expect.

Especially rich in both quality and style are our Mahogany Suits.

In three and five-piece suits you will find so many really beautiful and desirable ones that making a selection will be a pleasure.

Prices to suit.

WORK RESUMED AT TRINITY COLLEGE

College Societies Reorganized and Class Officers Elected.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Durham, N. C., October 1.—The Historical Society of Trinity College held its first meeting Monday evening in the history room of the Duke Building. President W. K. Boyd presided over the meeting, and took occasion to read the many donations that have been made to the society. An inventory prepared last year shows that this organization is now in possession of over 2,000 books and pamphlets and 400 manuscripts. The nominating committee made the following report, which was adopted: Dr. Boyd, president; J. Miller, vice-president; Mr. Hunt, secretary and treasurer; Mr. Lindow, curator of museum.

Bishop Kilgo is in Kentucky presiding over the Methodist Conference of that State. Last week the Kentucky Conference met at Harrisburg. This week the session of the St. Louis Conference is being held at Russellville. Bishop Kilgo is expected to return to Durham about October 6.

All freshmen are required to undergo a physical examination soon after their arrival on the campus. This examination enables the instructor in many instances to overcome any slight defect. This work has just been finished, and Gymnasium Instructor Card makes the following report: He finds that the average age of the freshmen is 18.2 years; the average height, 68.4 inches; the average weight, 139.2 pounds. The lowest man in the class is 62.7 in height. The tallest man is six feet and one inch. Every student is required to attend the gymnasium, and special hours have been arranged for those who wish to do extra work.

Friday night the Fortnightly Club met for its first meeting with Professor H. E. Spence as president. Six new men were enrolled as members. This organization has for its purpose the stimulating of interest along literary lines, and its members have in the past contributed largely to the college periodicals.

Rev. R. W. Hogue, of the University of North Carolina, led a Bible study rally in the Y. M. C. A. hall Wednesday evening. His talk was clear-cut, concise, and was well received by a large body of the students.

The "9019," a secret order based on scholarship, on last Thursday night initiated the following men into its mysteries: Claude Brinn, Hartford, J. N. Aiken, Cleveland, Tenn.; F. S. Bennett, Cleveland, Tenn.; M. A. Smith, Kenly, W. G. Matton, High Point, L. A. Puryear, Paducah, Ky.; P. W. Best, Goldsboro, and E. L. Jones, of Charlotte.

lotte. This order was established in 1890, and under its auspices the South Atlantic Quarterly had its origin.

A few nights ago all the men in college representing newspapers met with the publication committee, of which Professor Flowers is chairman, and discussed in a general way the advantages to be derived from an organization such as a college press association. Professor Brooks, of the Department of Education, who is an old Washington correspondent, made quite an interesting talk. On motion to go into such an organization, Professor Brooks, representing the faculty, together with L. I. Jaffee, A. S. Brower and Russell K. K. college, correspondents, were appointed for the purpose of drawing up tentative constitution and by-laws.

All the classes, except the freshmen, have elected officers for --e year. From the sophomore class, H. M. Ratcliffe, McFarland, president; Ohio Suter, vice-president; Garysburg; Gladys Tallaferrero, Durham, secretary.

V. P. I. STARTS OFF NEW SESSION

Attendance Expected to Exceed That of Last Year—News Notes.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Blacksburg, Va., October 1.—Four hundred and forty-one men have registered as students at the Virginia Polytechnic Institute for the first term of the present session. There are several new students who have not yet reported, but who hold State appointments. Former students who have been at work during the summer or were detained for other reasons continue to come in every day, and this number does not include those who will take post-graduate and special work this session. When all have matriculated it is probable that the total attendance for the first month will equal that for any time last year. The past week has been devoted chiefly to the matriculation of the students, their proper classification after the usual entrance and deferred examinations, and the many details incident to the opening of a military school, where more than half of the students are entering for the first time. All members of the faculty have been in their classrooms since the first. Branch Beckwith, director of athletics, was accompanied by his bride, formerly Miss June Lyndon, of Athens, Ga. Their marriage took place late in the summer at the bride's home in Athens, Ga., and they have an apartment for the winter at the home of Dr. F. D. Wilson.

Now that the cadets are getting settled, so far as their college duties are concerned, student affairs are coming in for their share of attention. The first issue of "Va. Tech," the weekly paper of the athletic association, has made its appearance, with W. M. Harbin as editor-in-chief and Paul Tanner as business manager. "The Skirmisher," a monthly magazine, taking the place of the "Gray Jacket," will appear soon. J. O. Beard being the editor and J. P. Richter business manager; an attractive yearbook course for the winter has been arranged, and the usual clubs will be reorganized.

"College Night," the annual reception given by the Young Men's Christian Association to the new students, was a great success. There were cordial speeches of welcome from the secretary of the association, officers of the various athletic departments and the ministers of the town, with an abundance of refreshments furnished by the women of the community.

On his return to the Virginia Polytechnic Institute this fall, Branch Beckwith, director of athletics, was accompanied by his bride, formerly Miss June Lyndon, of Athens, Ga. Their marriage took place late in the summer at the bride's home in Athens, Ga., and they have an apartment for the winter at the home of Dr. F. D. Wilson.

Dr. N. S. Mayo, of the department of animal husbandry, has returned to his duties after a stay of several weeks in the Jefferson Hospital, at Roanoke, where he was operated on for appendicitis.

Professor and Mrs. O. C. Burkhardt have taken the house on Main Street for the winter belonging to A. Black, and recently occupied by Mrs. John T. Knight and family, of Washington.

The German Club of the institute has issued invitations for the opening german, to be given in their hall Friday evening, October 7. W. B. Davis, of Norfolk, is the president of the club this session, and the official leader is Bernard T. Ashby, of Culpeper.
